INVESTOR PRODUCT OVERVIEW

A car marketplace where the dealer doesn't fit.

FamilyCar is a family-to-family used vehicle marketplace for India, structurally designed so commercial dealers cannot operate on it the way they do on OLX and Quikr.

1 The Problem

OLX and Quikr were built as open classifieds with no real distinction between an individual owner and a business. That openness has been filled almost entirely by commercial dealers — today, the large majority of "owner" listings on these platforms are actually run by dealers and resellers operating at scale, often across multiple accounts.

Because a dealer's margin depends on buying low and reselling as if it were a personal sale, three problems follow directly: identity is hidden — dealers avoid disclosing their dealer status until the buyer has already shown up for a test drive; parts get swapped — original tyres, batteries, and accessories are sometimes replaced with cheaper ones before delivery to protect margin; and price is inflated — the buyer pays an invisible middleman markup, disguised as a genuine owner-to-owner deal.

The platforms haven't solved this because their business model doesn't require them to — more listings, even dealer-run ones, still means more traffic. Fixing it means designing dealers out from the start, not moderating them after the fact.

2 How FamilyCar Solves It

Every rule below exists for one purpose: make a dealer's scale operation structurally unworkable, while staying completely invisible to a genuine family selling their own car.

1 One Vehicle, One Identity — For Life

Every listing requires the RC (Registration Certificate) and number plate at upload. Once a specific vehicle's registration number has been listed on FamilyCar, it is locked permanently — it can never be listed again, by that seller or any other account. Dealers lose the ability to recycle the same stock car across multiple "personal" profiles.

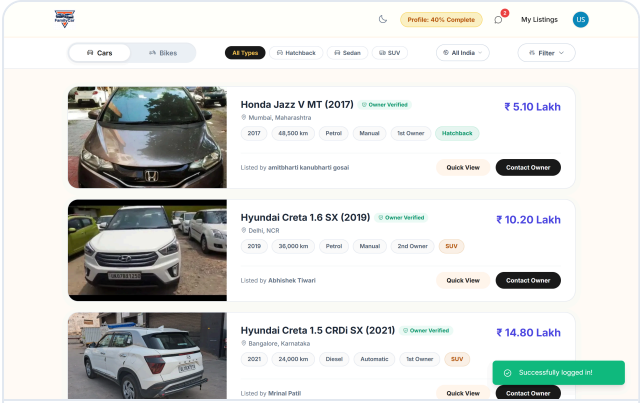

2 A Listing Limit That Only Hurts Dealers

A genuine family sells a car once every few years, not every week. FamilyCar limits each verified user to 1 car and up to 2 two-wheelers per 6-month window. A private seller barely notices this limit — a dealer's entire business model, turning over dozens of vehicles a month, becomes impossible to run on the platform.

3 Verified First, Contact Later

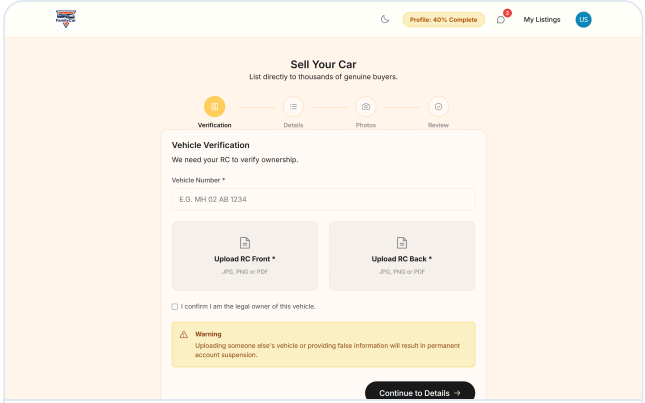

Before a listing goes live, the seller completes RC, identity (Aadhaar/PAN), phone, and address verification, producing a visible Trust Score buyers see upfront. All communication happens inside FamilyCar's built-in chat — phone numbers stay hidden until both sides choose to share them — so buyers negotiate on facts, not a stranger's sales call.

3 See It In Action

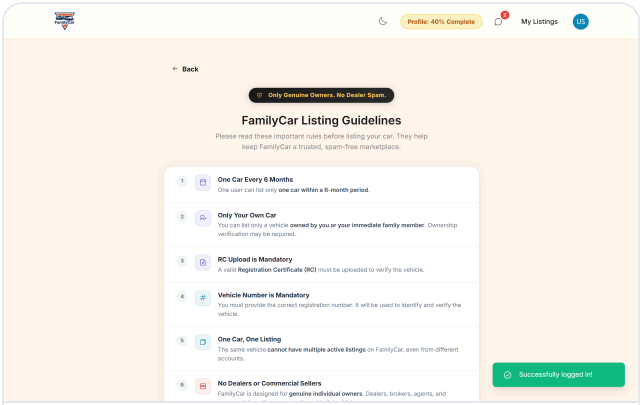

HOME & BROWSE

Every listing is owner-uploaded and RC-backed, with a live Trust Score shown on the card — no dealer inventory walls, no repeated stock photos.

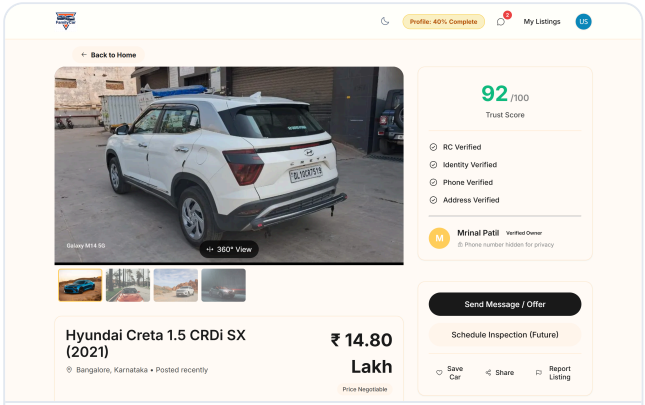

CONFIG 1 — LISTING VERIFICATION

Vehicle number and RC front/back are mandatory at upload — the exact check that permanently locks a vehicle to one listing, ever.

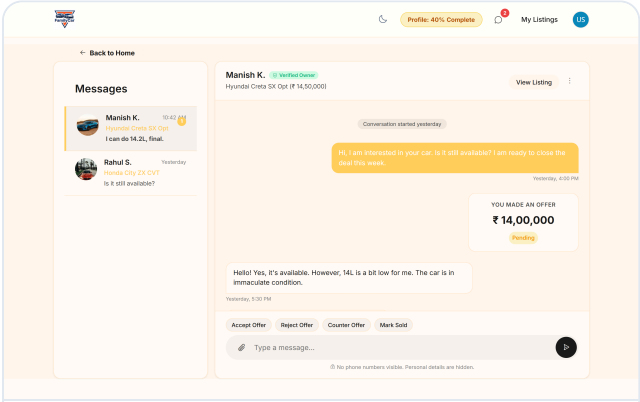

CONFIG 2 — LISTING LIMIT

The 6-month cap, written in plain language every seller must read and agree to before they're allowed to list.

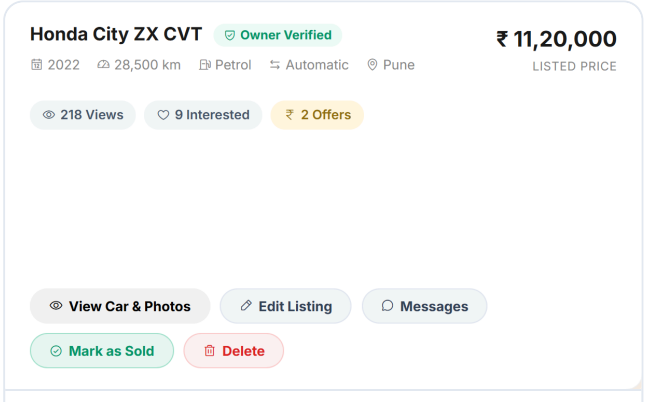

CONFIG 3 — TRUST SCORE

RC, identity, phone, and address verification shown upfront — with the seller's phone number kept private until a deal is agreed.

IN-APP NEGOTIATION

Offers, counters, and chat all happen inside FamilyCar — buyer and seller never need to exchange numbers to negotiate.

SELLER DASHBOARD

Views, interest, and offers tracked per listing, so a genuine owner can manage a sale without exposing personal contact details.

4 Why FamilyCar Wins

Dimension	OLX / Quikr	FamilyCar
Who can list	Anyone, unlimited listings — inventory dominated by dealers at scale	Verified individual owners only
Same car, relisted	No cross-check — dealers recycle inventory across accounts	RC + number plate locked for life, one listing ever
Listing frequency	Unlimited per account	1 car + up to 2 two-wheelers per user, every 6 months
Seller identity	Often undisclosed until the physical test drive	Trust Score & verification badges shown upfront
Contact details	Phone visible early — cold calls from dealers	In-app chat only; phone hidden until both sides agree
Price	Dealer markup baked in, undisclosed to the buyer	Direct owner-to-buyer price, no hidden middleman

THE BET

FamilyCar doesn't compete with OLX and Quikr on more listings or better filters — it competes by removing the dealer that both platforms quietly depend on for volume. The result is a marketplace where "verified owner" actually means what it says, buyers pay a fair price instead of a hidden markup, and a family selling their own car in good faith is never mistaken for one running a shop.
